

HEADLINE JUDGMENT

Note: 14 Jul figures are intraday prints; 13 Jul is now a final close ($82.71 Brent — $4.01 ABOVE my intraday). Bloomberg's restated continuation series (front-month CO2/CL2) in force. Score rises to 24/30 as TREASURY STRESS UPGRADES 4→5 — the market's containment bet has broken. The 13 Jul close met both legs of the trigger for the first time: the 30Y closed at 5.105% (above 5.00%) and MOVE spiked to 77.77 — above the 75 threshold, up 8.2 points in a session. VIX jumped to 17.16, and 5Y5Y closed at 2.2061% — above the 2.20% line for the first time (US-inflation →4 is now one confirmed close away). The closure is finally biting physically: Kpler counted just SIX vessels transiting on Sunday — a five-week low — as Iran declared passage “not possible” and closed the strait “until further notice.” The US launched a fourth wave of strikes (using one-way attack drones at sea for the first time); Iran hit US facilities in Bahrain and Kuwait, destroyed radar in Oman, and struck fuel tanks and ammunition depots at Prince Hassan Air Base in Jordan. Crucially, the IEA warns global oil supply is still 9.4 mb/d BELOW pre-war — the OPEC+ “glut shield” that had capped this shock is thinner than the market assumed. Brent surged to $83.52 intraday (+$11.04, +15.2% vs pre-war) and WTI to $79.02; TTF €52.3 (+67.5%). Oil still holds 2 (the $95 trigger is $11.5 away). Maritime and escalation remain maxed at 5/5. The repricing I flagged as the tail risk has begun. Sequencing 23 → 23 → 24.

Cross-asset stress and political-transmission gauges — Bloomberg

Indicator	Latest	As of	Δ vs pre-war	Interpretation
DXY (dollar index)	101.25	14 Jul intraday	+3.65 (from 97.61)	Firm above 101 — haven bid. No Stage-4 dollar break.
MOVE Index (bond vol)	77.77	13 Jul (lagged)	+4.39 (from 73.38)	SPIKED 8.2 points in a session and broke ABOVE the 75 trigger — and above its own pre-war level. The bond market's containment bet has broken; this fired Treasury→5.
VIX (equity vol)	17.16	13 Jul (lagged)	-2.70 (from 19.86)	Jumped +2.1 from its war low (15.03) — equities finally repricing, though still below pre-war.
Gasoline · AUTMUSAG (AAA, all-grades pump) — score reference	$4.48 /gal	10 Jul (latest)	+$0.96 (from $3.52, +27%)	The political-stress reference (pre-war $3.52, peak $5.18). 27 cents below the $4.75 threshold; the $11 crude premium has yet to fully pass through.
Gasoline · USRFRUSA (DOE, regular-grade spot) — corroboration	$3.777 /gal	6 Jul (weekly)	~+$0.84 (from ~$2.94, +29%)	Regular-grade spot; stale (pre-re-escalation). The next weekly print should jump sharply.

US retail gasoline — the two tracked series, 2026 year-to-date

AUTMUSAG (AAA all-grades retail pump, daily) is the political-stress score reference (pre-war $3.52, peak $5.18, latest $4.48); USRFRUSA (DOE regular-grade retail spot, weekly) is the complementary gauge (pre-war ~$2.94, peak $4.50, latest $3.777). The AAA line has turned up off its early-July low ($4.38 → $4.48) but has NOT yet reflected the $11/bbl crude premium of the past week — the refining/retail lag means the pump price should keep rising toward the $4.75 political→5 threshold over the coming days.

Strait operational state

Indicator	Current reading	Source
SIX transits — five-week low	Kpler data show just six vessels passed through the strait on Sunday 12 Jul, a five-week low. Iran declared passage "not possible" and the strait closed "until further notice"; CENTCOM disputes, saying it is attacking to ensure freedom of navigation.	Kpler / Reuters / Bloomberg
Fourth wave of US strikes	CENTCOM launched a fourth wave, hitting "dozens" of additional targets and using one-way attack drones at sea for the first time ; earlier rounds hit air defences, coastal radar, missile/drone capability and small boats.	CENTCOM / The National
Iran widens the retaliation	The IRGC said it struck US military facilities in Bahrain and Kuwait, destroyed radar systems in Oman , and hit fuel tanks and ammunition depots at Prince Hassan Air Base in Jordan — the first strikes on energy/munitions infrastructure.	IRGC / Reuters / US News
IEA — the glut shield is thin	Global oil supply rose 4.1 mb/d in June post-deal but remains 9.4 mb/d below pre-conflict levels . IEA: renewed exchanges "highlight the risks of not reaching a lasting peace agreement, which is a must for the normalisation in oil markets."	IEA monthly report
Analyst view	Goldman Sachs: recent attacks "highlight how uncertain Gulf exports remain and a serious re-escalation could reintensify the short-run upside risk to oil prices." ADNOC cut its August Murban OSP to $80.01 from $101.48.	Goldman Sachs / ADNOC
Iranian barrels stranded	Iranian oil held at sea is rising with sales slow — Chinese buyers are switching to cheaper Iraqi, UAE and Qatari crude.	Kpler / Reuters

2 · US economic shock — analysis with bond yields

The US economic shock rises to 24/30 as Treasury stress upgrades 4→5 — the first market-channel upgrade of the re-escalation and the moment the market's containment bet broke. For a week this monitor flagged the gap between a formally closing strait and a 15-handle VIX; that gap has now begun to close. MOVE spiked 8.2 points through the 75 trigger, the 30Y closed above 5.00%, 5Y5Y broke 2.20%, and Brent surged $4 into the close. The catalyst was physical: six transits on Sunday, and an IEA reminder that supply is still 9.4 mb/d below pre-war. The shield was thinner than the market thought.

2.1 · Bond-yield transmission

14 Jul yields are intraday; d/d vs 13 Jul close, w/w vs 7 Jul. Treasury 4→5; score 23→24. The 13 Jul session was the break: MOVE 69.55 → 77.77, VIX 15.03 → 17.16, the 30Y to 5.105%, 5Y5Y through 2.20%, and Brent +$4.01. Tuesday's intraday consolidates (yields off ~0.5 bp) with Brent extending to $83.52.

(i) Treasury — UPGRADED to 5. Both legs met on a confirmed close. The trigger required a 30Y close above 5.00% with MOVE above 75. On 13 Jul the 30Y closed at 5.1052% and MOVE printed 77.77 — above its own pre-war level (73.38) for the first time in this phase. This is no longer orderly term premium: bond volatility has broken out, and the long end is repricing war risk on top of a hawkish Fed. The 10Y at 4.618% is now just 3 bp below its 4.65% Stage-4 leg.

(ii) Inflation anchor — through 2.20%; held at 3, →4 one close away. 5Y5Y closed at 2.2061% on 13 Jul — its first close above the 2.20% upgrade line — and the 14 Jul intraday holds at 2.2034%. The trigger requires a sustained break, and the margin is thin (0.6 bp), so the channel holds at 3 for one more session; a second confirmed close above 2.20% fires 3→4. 10Y breakevens (2.28%) are now above pre-war. The market has stopped reading the shock as purely growth-negative.

(iii) Oil — $83.52; still held at 2. Closes 10 Jul $76.03, 13 Jul $82.71 (+$4.01 above my intraday); 14 Jul intraday $83.52 (+$11.04 premium, +15.2% vs pre-war); WTI $79.02. The $95 oil→3 trigger is $11.5 away. With six transits a day and the IEA flagging a 9.4 mb/d supply deficit, that gap is closable within days if the closure holds.

2.2 · What would push the shock to Stage 4

Stage 4 is a credit/auction event. Threshold B is now within a few basis points — the closest it has been in this entire crisis.

Threshold A · 13 May 30Y auction. Historical. Cleared at 5.050%. With the 30Y at 5.10%, the next long-bond auction is a genuine test of demand at these levels.

Threshold B · 30Y above 5.20% with 10Y above 4.65%. IMMINENT. 30Y 5.099% is 10 bp below 5.20%; 10Y 4.618% is just 3 bp below 4.65%. A single risk-off session could trip both.

Threshold C · MOVE above 130. Rising, but far off. MOVE 77.77 has broken out of its range and above pre-war, but remains well below the 130 Stage-4 level. The trend, not the level, is the warning.

2.3 · Cross-asset

For a week the defining feature of this crisis was a divergence: a strait closing while VIX printed war lows, because the OPEC+ glut and the Saudi/UAE bypass pipelines were assumed to make a Hormuz closure survivable. That assumption has now been tested and found wanting. Two facts broke it: only six vessels transited on Sunday, and the IEA confirmed supply is still 9.4 mb/d below pre-war — there is far less slack than the “glut” narrative implied. The result was a simultaneous repricing across oil (+$4 into the close), bond vol (MOVE +8.2 through its trigger), breakevens (5Y5Y through 2.20%) and equity vol (VIX +2.1). Three of the four market channels are now at or through their triggers or within touching distance. The convexity I warned about is materialising: the score is jumping, not drifting.

3 · Shock score

Total: 24/30 — CRISIS band. Band thresholds: 0–7 watch · 8–14 stress · 15–21 systemic-risk watch · 22–30 crisis.

Channel	Score	Rationale	Triggers
Maritime denial	5/5	Held at 5 (max). Just six vessels transited on Sunday (Kpler) — a five-week low. Iran: passage “not possible,” closed “until further notice.” The closure is now measurably biting on physical flows.	↑ at max. ↓ verified reopening with traffic >25% of normal for 10 sessions → to 3–4.
Oil price shock	2/5	Held at 2 — →3 approaching. Brent $83.52 (+$11.04, +15.2% vs pre-war); WTI $79.02. Elevated but the $95 trigger is still $11.5 away. The IEA's 9.4 mb/d supply deficit makes that gap closable if the closure holds.	↑ Brent >$95 sustained → to 3. ↓ mediated pause + close back at/below the $72.48 anchor → to 1.
US inflation impulse	3/5	Held at 3 — →4 ONE CLOSE AWAY. 5Y5Y closed 2.2061% (13 Jul), its first close above the 2.20% line; 14 Jul intraday 2.2034% holds above. The trigger requires a sustained break and the margin is 0.6 bp — a second confirmed close fires it. 10Y BE 2.28% is above pre-war.	↑ 5Y5Y sustained >2.20% → to 4. ↓ 5Y5Y sustained at/below the 2.142% pre-war anchor → to 2.
Treasury stress	5/5	UPGRADED 4→5 — both legs met on the 13 Jul close. The 30Y closed at 5.1052% (>5.00%) AND MOVE spiked to 77.77 (>75), up 8.2 points in a session and above its own pre-war level. Bond volatility has broken out — this is no longer orderly term premium.	↑ at max. ↓ 30Y close <5.00% with MOVE <75 sustained → back to 4.
Political stress	4/5	Held at 4 — →5 building. AAA pump $4.48 (10 Jul), 27 cents below the $4.75 threshold. The $11/bbl crude premium has not yet passed through; the refining/retail lag points to further increases.	↑ gasoline >$4.75 sustained → to 5. ↓ toward the $3.52 pre-war level → to 3.
Escalation risk	5/5	Held at 5 (max). A fourth wave of US strikes (first sea-launched one-way attack drones); Iran struck US facilities in Bahrain and Kuwait, destroyed radar in Oman, and hit fuel tanks and ammunition depots at Prince Hassan Air Base in Jordan.	↑ at max. ↓ mediated stand-down + talks resume → back to 4–3.
TOTAL	24/30	CRISIS band — 23→24. The containment bet broke. Treasury upgraded on a confirmed close (MOVE through 75, 30Y through 5.00%). Two more upgrades are within reach: US-inflation →4 (one close) and political →5 (27 cents). Oil →3 needs $95. The score is now jumping, not drifting.

4 · What's changed since the last edition (13 Jul → 14 Jul AM)

Score rises to 24/30 — TREASURY STRESS UPGRADED 4→5. The 13 Jul close met both legs for the first time: 30Y 5.1052% (>5.00%) with MOVE 77.77 (>75). Source: Bloomberg.

The containment bet broke. MOVE spiked 8.2 points in one session (69.55 → 77.77, above pre-war); VIX +2.1 to 17.16; 5Y5Y closed above 2.20% for the first time; Brent surged $4.01 into the close. Source: Bloomberg.

The closure is biting — six transits. Kpler counted just six vessels on Sunday, a five-week low; Iran says passage is “not possible” and the strait closed “until further notice.” Source: Kpler / Reuters.

Fourth US strike wave; Iran hits energy/munitions targets. The US used sea-launched one-way attack drones for the first time; Iran destroyed radar in Oman and hit fuel tanks and ammo depots at Prince Hassan Air Base, Jordan. Source: CENTCOM / IRGC / Reuters.

The IEA punctures the “glut shield.” Global supply is still 9.4 mb/d below pre-war despite the post-deal recovery — far less slack than the market assumed was cushioning this shock. Source: IEA monthly report.

Oil to $83.52. Brent +$11.04 vs pre-war (+15.2%), WTI $79.02, TTF €52.3 (+67.5%). Oil still holds 2 — the $95 trigger is $11.5 away. Source: Bloomberg.

5 · Scenario map · next 7 to 30 days

Scenario	P	Description	Market path
Mediated pause — strikes halt, strait reopens	10%	A brokered halt despite four strike waves and Oman itself being hit. The IEA's call for a “lasting peace agreement” is the diplomatic anchor. Increasingly remote.	Brent $70–80; MOVE back <75; Treasury reverts to 4; score falls toward 21–22.
Contained but violent — low-grade war	24%	An on-off campaign with the strait Iran-closed and a trickle of escorted transits; markets stay repriced but do not spiral.	Brent $80–95; MOVE 75–90; risk premium $8–20/bbl; score 24–25 as US-inflation/political upgrade.
Deal collapse — sustained standoff	20%	The MoU formally lapses; the strait stays shut, sanctions harden, fighting stays bounded but persistent. Iranian barrels stay stranded at sea.	Brent $95–110; 10Y >4.65%; 30Y >5.20%; oil to 3; Stage-4 Threshold B trips; score 26–27.
Return to full war	40%	The four-wave campaign becomes sustained; Iran keeps striking Gulf bases and infrastructure. The modal path — the ceasefire is declared over and both sides are escalating.	Brent $105–140; MOVE >90; risk-off; oil to 3–4, US-inflation to 4, political to 5; score 27–29.
Regional relapse — Gulf energy infrastructure hit	6%	Iran hits Abqaiq/Ras Tanura/Fujairah or the bypass pipelines. Iran has already struck fuel tanks in Jordan and radar in Oman — the precedent now exists.	Brent $150+; emergency policy; HY spreads >500 bp; score 29–30.

Probability shifts from the 13 Jul edition: mediated pause –2 (12→10), contained-but-violent –2 (26→24), deal collapse +2 (18→20), return to full war +2 (38→40), regional relapse held (6%). Driver: a fourth strike wave, Iran hitting fuel tanks and ammunition depots in Jordan and radar in Oman, and the collapse of transits to six a day all point to a sustained campaign. The key change is not the geopolitics but the market: with the containment bet broken, the paths that were previously “priced as survivable” now carry Stage-4 Treasury risk — the 10Y is

3 bp from its Threshold-B leg.

6 · Watchlist · next 24–72 hours

Stage-4 Threshold B — 3 bp away. The 10Y (4.618%) needs just 3 bp to clear 4.65%, with the 30Y (5.099%) 10 bp from 5.20%. A single risk-off session trips the first Stage-4 threshold of this crisis. The next long-bond auction is the test.

US-inflation →4 — one close away. 5Y5Y closed 2.2061% and holds above 2.20% intraday; a second confirmed close above the line fires 3→4 and takes the score to 25.

Oil →3 ($95). Brent $83.52 with six transits a day and an IEA-confirmed 9.4 mb/d supply deficit. The $11.5 gap to $95 is closable within days if the closure holds.

Political →5 ($4.75). AAA gasoline $4.48 — the $11/bbl crude premium has not yet passed through. The pump price should keep climbing; 27 cents to the threshold.

Gulf energy infrastructure — the tail. Iran has now hit fuel tanks and ammunition depots in Jordan and radar in Oman. Abqaiq / Ras Tanura / Fujairah or the bypass pipelines are the scenario that removes the last cushion.

Physical evidence. Kpler/AIS transit counts, Qatari LNG cargoes, war-risk premiums and Iranian floating storage (rising, with Chinese buyers switching to Iraqi/UAE/Qatari crude) are the arbiters of whether the closure is real and durable.

9 · Methodology

Shock-score scale. Six transmission channels (maritime denial, oil price shock, US inflation impulse, Treasury stress, political stress, escalation risk), each 0–5, summed to 0–30. Bands: 0–7 watch · 8–14 stress · 15–21 systemic-risk watch · 22–30 crisis. Market/economic channels move only on a confirmed close through a trigger; escalation-risk is event-based. This edition: Treasury upgraded 4→5 on the 13 Jul close (both legs met). US-inflation held at 3 despite a 2.2061% close because the trigger specifies a sustained break above 2.20% and the margin was 0.6 bp — a second confirmed close fires it. Maritime and escalation remain at their 5/5 maximum, so further geopolitical deterioration cannot raise the score; only the market channels can.

Gasoline series. Political-stress is scored on AUTMUSAG (AAA all-grades retail pump; pre-war $3.52, peak $5.18, latest $4.48) for continuity. USFRUSA (DOE regular-grade retail spot; pre-war ~$2.94, peak $4.50, latest $3.777, pre-re-escalation) is tracked alongside. See the chart in section 1.

Pre-war anchor (27 Feb 2026 close). Brent $72.48; WTI $67.02; 2Y 3.375%; 5Y 3.502%; 10Y 3.938%; 30Y 4.611%; 2s10s +55.64 bp; 5Y5Y 2.142%; 10Y BE 2.257%; MOVE 73.38; VIX 19.86; DXY 97.608; gasoline (AAA) $3.52; Henry Hub $3.06; TTF €31.23; Asia LNG ¥1,669. (Re-verified — unchanged.) Brent +15.2%, WTI +17.9%, TTF +67.5%, Asia LNG +60.7%; the 30Y (+49 bp), 5Y5Y (+6 bp), 10Y BE (+2 bp) and MOVE (+4.4, now ABOVE pre-war) all sit above; only VIX (17.16) and US Henry Hub remain below. The containment signal has broken.

Intraday caveat. The latest dated row is a Singapore-AM intraday snapshot; US-hours trading and headlines set the close — emphatically so this edition, with the 13 Jul close running $4.01 above my Brent intraday and MOVE spiking 8.2 points during US hours. Market-channel triggers are evaluated on confirmed closes; escalation-risk is event-based. Absolute levels use the restated continuation series and are not directly comparable with pre-restatement editions.
